

CHRISTMAS ON MY MIND

ASHLEY GREENE, ANDREW WALKER
& JACKÉE HARRY

After slipping on a snowy street a week before Christmas, Lucy Lovett wakes up holding a wedding dress, assuming she's about to marry the love of her life Zach Callahan, only to discover they broke up two years prior. Turns out, Lucy has amnesia and not only does she not remember leaving Zach just days before their wedding day and moving to Portland, Maine to run her late Aunt Audrey's Art Foundation, she also doesn't remember that she's now engaged to Brad Martin, her CFO. Luckily, her apparent best friend and co-worker, Anna Hepburn, is there to take Lucy back "home" to Bedford Harbour in time for the local Christmas Festival and hopefully help her get answers about why they broke up. In the days leading up to Christmas, Lucy and Zach spend time together at all the wintery events and it's clear they both still have feelings for each other, but Zach is being evasive and Lucy is certain it's because she broke his heart. As Lucy learns more about the person she's become in Portland, she realizes that she lost sight of who she always was, and Zach fears that if her memory returns he'll lose her all over again just like that snowy night two years ago.

Trailer

Directed by Written by
Production credits
Format

Maclain Nelson
Kirsten Hansen, Based on the book "The Goodbye Bride" by Denise Hunter
Timothy O. Johnson, Maura Dunbar, Joseph Wilka, Navid Soofi, Oliver de Caigny
90 Min CANCON

For more information or to purchase contact:

Johnson Production Group

Phone: 310-573-3700

Email: inquiries@johnsonproductiongroup.com