Rachel chaperones on her daughter's school field trip, struggling to keep up with the kids when she sees a man pulling Lindsey into a van. Frantic, she starts to dial police but gets an incoming call where a threatening voice orders Rachel to do exactly what he says or he'll kill her daughter. Rachel is directed to a cardboard box where she finds electronic equipment and a beret. Now the kidnapper can hear everything she says, speak to her and track her movement. The twisted mindgames begin as he takes his sick game to the next level.
