

THE CONVENIENT GROOM

VANESSA MARCIL & DAVID SUTCLIFFE

In the charming New England town of Nantucket, Dr. Kate Lawrence, a celebrity relationship expert, shoots another dating advice video for her popular blog. Later, at a farmers market, Kate shops with her fiancé, Bryan, a handsome and perfectly polished businessman. There, Kate runs into Lucas Wright, a carpenter specializing in handcrafted furniture, who has had a crush on her since their high school days.

Hoping to land a book deal, and urged by her aggressive show-business agent, Kate plans to publicly announce her engagement—and film the subsequent wedding arrangements for her blog—as a way to build her fanbase. At an upscale event, as Kate prepares to share the news, Bryan shocks her by breaking up with her and calling off the wedding. Wanting to save her from humiliation and protect her public image, Lucas steps in and pretends to be Kate's fiancé.

With her career at risk, Kate reluctantly moves forward with her agent's plan to let the public continue believing that Lucas—whom she considers just a friend—is her soon-to-be husband.

Trailer

Directed by Written by Production credits

David Winning
Julie Sherman Wolfe, Denise Hunter
Timothy O. Johnson, Maura Dunbar,
Oliver De Caigny
90 Min | CANCON

Format

For more information or to purchase contact:

Johnson Production Group

Phone: 310-573-3700

Email: inquiries@johnsonproductiongroup.com