

THE WEDDING DANCE

JOHN SCHNEIDER, ROMA DOWNEY
& BROOKE NEVIN

Life is two steps forward, one step back, especially for one young woman whose past surprises her as she is about to take a big leap forward.

Despite the recent loss of her mother, Cyd Scarborough is forging ahead with marriage to her high school sweetheart, Zach. As if planning a wedding on her own isn't overwhelming enough, Cyd, a dance teacher, is faced with the lucrative opportunity to sell her family's dance studio, a fixture in her small town.

Conflicted, Cyd soon discovers that the sale is not just her decision - the studio is co-owned by the father she thought had died long ago. Wrestling with her mom's secret is tough, but the challenge grows when her dad, Tanner Gray, arrives to meet the daughter he never knew and discuss the deal. Tanner rattles Zach, who questions his motives, but as Tanner reveals that he truly cares about Cyd and the studio, he wins over everyone in town, including his future son-in-law.

Finding each other helps Cyd and Tanner uncover what's really important in life. Together as family and business partners, they now have every reason to celebrate Cyd's joyful occasion.
